JUDICIAL.

(Nos. 80 to 88.)

SUBJECT No. 80.

Extradition Warrants under the Breach of Contract Act.

Messrs. M. Ramachendra Rao Sindhe, Bangalore City Municipal Council, Chennakesaviah and Ramanna, Tirthahalli taluk.

Summary of discussion.—Warrants issued under the Breach of Contract Act may be made extraditable, as otherwise loss of money is caused to persons engaged in industries, who import labour from outside the State.

Labourers are engaged from outside the Mysore territory on payment of advances. They run away without fully working out their advances. In such cases the Mysore Government cannot issue warrants directly and much hardship is caused.

Mr. Venkatesiah.—Without advances it is impossible to secure labour.

Reply of Government.—Noted.

SUBJECT No. 81.

Separation of judicial and executive functions of Amildars.

Messrs. K. Shankaranarayana Rao, Shimoga taluk; C. Vasudeva Rao, Chikmagalur taluk; K. Ramanuja Iyengar, Gubbi taluk; M. S Ramachar, Kolar Municipality; B. Narasinga Rao, Seringapatam taluk; G. Girimaji Rao, Kolar taluk; Karnick Krishna Murti Rao, Magadi taluk; N. Bhima Rao, Chitaldurg Municipality.

Summary of discussion.—The combination of Executive and Judicial functions often ends in miscarriage of justice. As the Police is not well-paid and its morale is not high, it is necessary that Amildars should retain Police powers. The duties of officers are increased largely and the separation will conduce to greater promptness in the despatch of business in other departments also. Magisterial powers are not required for the efficient discharge of duties in other Departments. There will be no loss of prestige. The sooner the reform is effected the better.

Messrs. Basavaiya and S. Venkatesiah.—It is not altogether necessary to divest Amildars of Magisterial functions. Amildars are responsible for Village Improvement work. Police powers may be removed. A committee may be appointed to go into the question.

Messrs. Hema Hanumanthiah, B. Usman Khan and Rama Rao.—It is highly inexpedient to separate the functions. Amildars are responsible for Revenue collections and magisterial powers are necessary for the purpose. There will be loss of prestige. Powers are exercised with discretion and any abuse may be severely dealt with by Government. Amildars know the people intimately and
